

ISIS I.O.M.

Designed early in 2001 ISIS was to take the place of my then current Sidewinder design. I wanted the new boat to have better light air performance, particularly offwind than her predecessor. Pressure of work building Trevor Bamforth's Stealth design meant that I was unable to start putting my ideas into practice until mid summer. The delay gave me the chance to look at current designs with the opportunity to make minor changes.

ISIS is a modern narrow skiff style boat with the now common v'eed foredeck and lowered cockpit area. She is narrower than her predecessor at 220mm with reduced rocker and finer forward sections. The centre of buoyancy was moved back a little to enable the fin and rig to be fitted slightly further aft.

She performed well straight out of the box and has yet to show any vices being a great performer in all conditions.

Your 'ISIS' hull will be moulded in epoxy/glass fabric with a colour pigmented gelcoat to your choice. Fin and rudder are epoxy/carbon mouldings from a new thin fin mould. She will be finished with all deck gear including blocks, switch with harness and pot etc. and is fitted with low profile ballast. Just fit your rigs and electric's.

I am currently using Stealth sails with Ken and Trevor Binks using Sails Etc. Others have used House Martin and all have given good performance.

I am continually trying out new materials and techniques and reserve the right to alter and or improve the above specification.

Delivery at present is around 24 months but it is difficult to give accurate dates at such long range.
